

- cryptic art -

see yourself walking

into a gallery space

the room is empty other than a screwed-up piece of paper

on the floor

undoing it

a text written in pencil reads art is a deliberate

but unnecessary

expression of consciousness manifest within a cultural system where it is valued and named as art

you leave

turning off the lights

closing the door

consider the work of artist Martin Creed